OCS considers each individual child and their readiness to participate in an academic program. This is done through a collective discovery of reference checks, preview visits and classroom balance. While some children are emerging into academics there may be a recommendation to have them in a play-based learning model a little longer prior to admission at OCS. Those families have the option to be on the first round of admission applications the following school year. First round admissions are determined by March 15, please contact the enrollment coordinator for subsequent admission dates.
